Driver Helper:

A Driver Helper is typically a person that cannot drive or cannot perform the duties of the job unassisted and requires working in a team to accomplish the tasks of the job. The Driver Helper typically performs all electrical cord set up, cleaning and customer interactions while the Driver is installing the unit. Compensation is lower for a Driver Helper.

Rules and Dress Code:

All employees must adhere to a standard of dress that is appropriate for dealing with customers and provides personal protection against potential injury.

Appropriate dress includes: Clean and acceptably groomed at the beginning of each shift (clean looking/smelling, teeth brushed, etc). T-shirts with sleeves that cover the shoulders; no mid-riff or arm-pit baring shirts allowed. No logos or images depicting alcohol, narcotics, racism, vulgarities, or otherwise demeaning images are tolerated. Shorts are completely acceptable, so long as they extend mid-thigh or below; pants are also acceptable. No sagging waist bands are allowed, a properly fitted belt or suspenders must be worn as required. Closed-toe shoes only, flip-flops are NOT allowed.

No tobacco use of any kind is allowed while actively on the job, to include e-cigarette/vaping/hookah etc. Smoking, if necessary, must be done between deliveries and never in any delivery vehicle. No alcohol use on the job or within 8 hours of working is allowed. Drug use is not allowed at all and is reason for immediate termination. Refrain from swearing around customers, or on the job-site, as it does not promote good customer service or the family-oriented image that Jumpin' Jack Splash represents.

Safety is paramount. Each unit is to be set up and staked down in the manner most appropriate for each location, as the Driver/Helper has been trained—no exceptions. Short-cuts are not to be made as injury can occur. Each Driver/Team is personally accountable to ensure the unit is safely positioned prior to leaving a job site.

Cleanliness is essential to our business. After inflation, each unit will be thoroughly cleaned as the employees have been trained—no exceptions. Not only does cleaning the unit prevent the spread of bacteria and viruses, it prolongs the life of the equipment. Mainly, our customers deserve to have a unit that is cleaned and sanitized for their event. Bottom-line, we are known for clean and safe equipment and we value that reputation. If it comes to our attention that the equipment is not being cleaned, pay will be docked and the potential for termination exists.

Compensation:

If driving your own vehicle, mileage is compensated from the point of the storage facility to the job and back. Mileage must be recorded to receive payment and is audited on occasion for tax purposes; only job-related miles are reimbursable. The mileage rate will be reviewed as gasoline prices fluctuate to ensure fairness. Unless otherwise notified, if your crew drops a unit off, your crew will pick it up as well. Same rates apply for both set up and take down.

Salary is based upon a 'per load, flat rate, per crew' and will be discussed when an offer is extended. Typically each trailer takes out 4-6 units with 2 people. The value of the load can vary and will be split between the team. This is seasonal work and employees who work hard, hustle, and work alone typically make several thousand dollars if they stay all season. All employees are considered W-2 employees and will have state and federal taxes withheld each pay period.
